DAUCHY & COMPANY'S

NEWSPAPER CATALOGUE.

ITS SPECIAL FEATURES

not embodied in any other work of this character are, briefly, as follows:

A MEMORANDUM SPACE

against the name of each publication, enclosed in dotted lines. The convenience and usefulness of this arrangement will be appreciated by anyone who has attempted to keep memoranda upon the narrow margins and soft paper of the ordinary newspaper directory. The paper of this book is adapted to pen and ink and there is room enough to record such details as dates and amounts of contracts, first and "O. K." dates, dates of bills and payments, pages of record books, etc. The importance of having such memoranda at hand in compact, accessible shape, cannot be overestimated.

CO-OPERATIVE PAPERS ARE DESIGNATED

by the letter "C" placed before the date of establishment. These papers are also known as "patent outside" or "patent inside," because they print only one-half of their sheets at home, the "outside" or "inside" being printed by "Newspaper Unions" in some city and forwarded to a large number of papers which are, consequently, all alike on one side, differing only on the "home" side. General advertisers make their contracts with the "Union" for the whole list and not with each paper for this class of publications. It is, therefore, important to know which the "patents" are in making up lists. Ours is the only newspaper catalogue which marks them. As the lists are constantly changing owing to papers adopting the "patent" plan or discarding it, we cannot guarantee our marking, but use the latest publishers' co-operative lists in designating the co-operative papers.

PAPERS HAVING NARROW COLUMNS

are marked with an upright cross (+) immediately before the date of establishment.

The regular width of a newspaper column is understood to be "13 ems pica" or about one-third of an agate line over $2\frac{1}{8}$ inches, but a large number of papers, and the number is increasing, especially among the great dailies, have narrower columns than this and cannot take cuts (electrotypes or stereotypes) wider than 2 inches. All such we have marked with a cross as stated above. Advertisers who have experienced the annoyance and expense of sending out cuts which proved too wide, will appreciate the advantage of knowing this beforehand. The only source of such information is this Catalogue.

A DESK BOOK FOR ADVERTISERS:

compact and of convenient shape, bound to lie open flat, printed from new type, large and clear, and used for no other purpose, it gives all information necessary to advertisers.

CIRCULATIONS.

We do not claim to have solved this problem, nor do we think we are much nearer doing so than we were eight years ago when we first attempted it in our Newspaper Catalogue. We do claim absolute good faith, unbiased by business considerations, and we believe that the result, on the whole, is as accurate as that arrived at by newspaper directory publishers by arbitrary methods and elaborate systems.

If anything, the difficulty of obtaining circulation information from the publishers has increased in these eight years. The number of publishers is increasing who take the stand that their papers have been so long established that they are entitled to consideration by advertisers from the standpoint of reputation and quality, outside of mere quantity and do not care, therefore, to give detailed statements of circulation. And there are other publishers who, discouraged by the extravagant claims, sworn and otherwise, of rivals, decline to enter into a "claiming" contest and therefore will not give circulation statements. We do not think that publishers who for such very good reasons decline to make statements should be penalized by omitting quotations or reducing them to absurdly low figures.

We are free to say that we do not consider the question of circulation as all important to the advertiser. There are many other considerations of weight to the impartial and experienced: those of quality and class of circulation, for instance, and the influence of a publication with its readers owing to long establishment or peculiar features. Considerations, also of special endorsement by great societies, religious bodies, and other points which make the circulation of many mediums a secondary matter when it comes to their use for advertising.

We set down all circulations in plain figures on the ground that a definite, honest guess in cases where "no fellow can find out" is the best. Where we have no affidavits or acceptable circulation statements from the publishers, we print our estimate. Our "guesses" are based on thirty years experience and contact with the newspapers and we consider them of some value; they are simply opinions given in good faith for which we assume no responsibility, but we are always ready to revise them and to investigate any complaints. We shall always appreciate any information from publishers as to errors in our circulation statements, and any corrections received up to date of going to press, about the first of November, will be attended to.

An asterisk (*) against the circulation figure indicates that the publisher has sworn to the circulation set down.

A dagger (†) against the circulation figure indicates that we have received a statement from the publisher which we believe to be reliable and acceptable. Some of these statements cover a period of three months, some cover more time and some less. In marking them "Publishers' statements" we do not intend to imply at all that we do not consider the statements reasonable or credible. On the contrary we only so mark statements from reliable publishers, and their reputation is the force that gives these statements point.

In some cases we have omitted circulation ratings. These are of publications which have been established less than one year, and, in some few cases, papers of whose circulation we have no accurate information.

We have, as a rule, omitted the names of publications which are devoted mainly to advertising the business of some firm or corporation, and are really advertising sheets, without much paid circulation.

POPULATIONS.

These are taken from the Federal census of 1890. In the cases of some small villages and towns where the census gives only the population of the whole township, we have obtained the village population from other reliable sources.

SUNDAY EDITIONS.

As it is often important to know whether a daily paper is published on Sunday or not, we repeat here the information, given elsewhere, that all dailies set down as being issued in the morning are published every day in the week, including Sundays, unless expressly stated to the contrary. It will be noticed that in some cases the Sunday edition is expressly mentioned by itself and its circulation given. This is when the Sunday edition varies considerably in circulation from that on other days of the week. Evening dailies are published six days in the week only and not on Sundays, unless otherwise specified. Some daily papers are noted, for instance, thus: "Mor ex Mon"—which signifies that they are published every morning, including Sunday, but not on Monday.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISEMENTS.

We have admitted to this book a few advertisements of leading publications, but have kept them within such limited bounds that the book is not bulky nor too cumbersome for practical use. This catalogue is not issued as a mere advertising scheme, and we do not wish to give it that appearance by making it two-thirds advertising matter. In order to make such advertisements as we have admitted more effective, we have referred to them (giving the page) in the body of the catalogue, under the name of the paper. We give, also, on pages 708 to 710 an index to these advertisements to assist reference to them. Advertisers will obtain additional information of interest, impossible to incorporate in the body of the book, by referring to the advertisements. In some cases it may be that the circulations stated by the publishers in their advertisements do not agree with the figures given by us in the text. This can be explained by the fact that the circulations are printed in the text some time before the advertisements are set up. Advertisements are received and printed up to within a few days of going to press.

FUTURE ISSUES OF THIS CATALOGUE.

This Directory is issued yearly, in January, and is always open to correction up to the date of going to press, about November first. We know there is always room for improvement in a work of this character, and we shall feel grateful for any suggestions to that end, or corrections from publishers or advertisers.

We call attention to the fact that this is a complete directory of the newspapers, magazines and other periodical publications which are being issued at the date of our going to press, in the United States and Canada, and it contains the names of all such which insert advertisements.

We emphasize the completeness of this work to prevent it being classed with the lot of pamphlets and books, issued mostly by advertising agencies, which are simply lists of "leading publications" or lists of papers which the publishers prefer to deal with, or whose advertisements are printed in the book, but which have no claim to consideration as complete newspaper catalogues or directories.

PERSONAL.

We conduct an agency for the insertion of advertisements in all the publications of the United States and Canada. February 19th, 1897 will be the thirtieth anniversary of the establishment of this agency, and during all these thirty years the present head and founder of the business has been at the helm. We can look back with satisfaction to a career which has been consistent, conservative and yet always progressive. Our course has been set in accordance with our convictions in the straight line of careful, concientions and, we think, intelligent service to our customers; living up to the conviction that our customers' interests are our own has resulted in our own success and in the success of our customers.

We might fill much more space than we have to spare with commendations from customers, whom we have had upon our books for many years, and we could fill some pages, too, with favorable testimony from newspaper publishers everywhere, with whom we have dealt for thirty years, all to the effect that we have kept our engagements with them.

So much as to what we are. As to what we do; our facilities are complete and modern. We make up the list of publications adapted to the needs of the particular advertiser, covering the desired territory; furnish an estimate on the cost of the work; write the advertisements; prepare the drawings for their illustration and set the advertisements in type, furnishing proofs to the advertiser. We make electrotypes for the papers and print the "copy" to send to the papers. We send the orders to the papers and correspond with them as much as may be necessary to arrange the details of price and position of the advertisements; examine the newspapers to see that the advertisements are properly inserted and check the insertion of each advertisement in each paper on our record books, notifying the publishers at once of wrong insertions; render bills to the advertiser at the end of the month or quarter, with details as to first dates, "O K" dates, etc., and finally assist him to check up our bills from our newspaper files. These services alone are worth to an advertiser more than the amount of the commission which we charge.

In addition, our customers get the advantage of our experience as to results to be expected; of our knowledge (knowing what advertisers are paying) of what advertising space can be bought for; of combining several customers' orders to secure low prices; of our buying space by the column by the year in certain classes of publications; and, finally, the advantage of our large capital, which enables us to make our terms to suit our customers' convenience.

We have our own printing office, which is a part of our establishment, with new type used only for advertisement setting, and printers experienced in that work. We have able writers and artists.

Correspondence on the subject of newspaper and magazine advertising solicited. We publish a pamphlet, "Special Offers for Newspaper Advertising," containing lists and information of value to intending advertisers which we will mail to such upon application.

THE NEW YORK LEDGER FOR 1897

Presents a greater variety of attractions than ever before. Its list of contributors embraces the most popular authors in Europe and America. In the number and character of its contributions, and the variety and beauty of its illustrations, the Ledger has no equal among the weekly periodicals of the United States. In its enlarged form it is able to lay before its readers every week a greater quantity of interesting matter in the form of serials, short stories, illustrated sketches, and articles by famous preachers and men of science, than any paper in the world. Something for every member of the family.

...USE THE...

New York Ledger.

It circulates in homes of discrimination, taste and purchasing ability. It has the prestige of age, the influence of talent, and the power of honesty. Its readers depend upon it. Careful advertisers commend it. It represents a field of which it is sovereign. Advertising rates are low in proportion to circulation.

Agate Lines of

were printed in THE MAIL AND EXPRESS during 1896. This is 112,098 agate lines in excess of our next highest competitor, and 1,313,970 agate lines more than appeared in the third newspaper on the list. This is the most remarkable showing ever made by any New York newspaper, and is indisputable evidence that advertising in THE MAIL AND EXPRESS pays, because it produces results.

It is calculated that the readers of THE MAIL AND EXPRESS expend for merchandise, etc., during the year in excess of a billion of dollars. It should be the ambition of every man who has any good article to dispose of to get his share of those good American dollars. There is only one way to reach the readers of THE MAIL AND EXPRESS, and that is to be represented in its advertising columns.

The Mail and Express is the only High Class Republican Evening Newspaper in Greater New York.

6,000,000

Persons go shopping every day in the district in which THE MAIL AND EXPRESS circulates.

“A Newspaper First, An Advertising Medium Afterward,”

Is the reason given by Mr. I. W. Bigger, Advertising Manager of the Armour Packing Company, why advertisers make money out of space in THE KANSAS CITY STAR, explaining at once the source of THE STAR'S value as a medium for securing publicity, and the cause of its surprising supremacy in its territory.

This pre-eminence is without parallel. THE STAR is read every day by more than 90 per cent. of the residents of Kansas City.

It has nearly as many readers outside the City as in it.

Its circulation exceeds double the combined circulation of all other Kansas City dailies, and is of higher class.

That field can be COMPLETELY covered by the use of THE STAR alone.

It cannot be covered even approximately by the use of all other mediums.

THE French say there are three sexes—men, women and clergymen. So there are three classes of advertising mediums—those that interest the children, those that interest the parents, and those that interest the entire household. It costs about as much to advertise in one class as in another, but the latter gives you three times as much advertising. Among the best papers of this third—the great paying class—are the sixteen hundred papers of which are weeklies, read by every member of every family. They are the mediums of gossip among over one million families. All members of the family read them. This is a perfectly logical assumption, for everybody is curious to know all that goes on in his town. The most curious thing on earth is the person who isn't curious.

This peculiarity makes the Atlantic Coast Lists the best paying mediums extant. Advertisers use them year in and year out. This is the strongest indorsement possible. They would not remain in these papers if it did not pay them to do so. This is indisputable, and the advertiser who reasons will investigate.

Better write for more pertinent points. Resolve to do it at once. A resolution, like a fainting lady, should always be carried out.

Facts for Advertisers.

A STEADY GROWTH. For the three months ending January 15, 1897, and since the installation of the three new Hoe Quadruple presses, capacity 72,000 16-page papers an hour, the daily average circulation of The New York Evening Post has been 25,491 copies, as quoted in this directory in accordance with the statement filed with Messrs. DAUCHY & Co. In six years the advertising has increased 70 per cent

QUALITY OF CIRCULATION. The Evening Post is a three cent paper. It contains all the news of the world edited for people of intelligence. Its readers are usually well-to-do, the most profitable customers. It is essentially a home paper reaching men and their families—two circulations at the cost of one.

A COMPARISON. During the year 1896, The Evening Post, charging invariable rates, contained more advertising than any other evening paper in New York City, and, with three exceptions, more advertising than any New York morning paper, including the Sunday issues—366 issues of the morning paper against 311 issues of The Evening Post.

QUALITY OF ADVERTISING. Representative houses in all lines of business are the largest advertisers; unworthy and disagreeable advertising is excluded—the advertisements are set under competent direction and well printed on good paper.

The Baltimore American.

Established 1773.

In its long career, which is filling out 124 years, the AMERICAN has led the newspaper procession of the South, and the older it gets the younger it grows. Last year Messrs. Hoe & Co. placed in the cellars of its large building, one of the handsome structures of Baltimore, built by the paper and devoted to its use, the finest equipment of printing machinery in the South. This includes a color press, the first of its kind outside of New York and Boston. The presses began running October 1, 1896. In the three months following to the 1st of January, the AMERICAN printed OVER ELEVEN HUNDRED COLUMNS OF ADVERTISING, and it broke all records in the South, both in advertising and circulation. On the 3d of January, 1897, the price of the daily AMERICAN was reduced to One Cent Everywhere, and the increase of the circulation within a month has been phenomenal, and is still growing rapidly, sweeping the local field and making wonderful gains in the District of Columbia, all through Maryland, in southern Pennsylvania, in Virginia and West Virginia, and in Delaware. In any and all of its three editions—the daily, the Sunday and the twice-a-week—it absolutely assures the advertiser

HEADS THE LIST.

It is a home newspaper and by far the most popular of the morning newspapers printed in a town of 100,000 inhabitants. Read what one of the leading dry-goods houses says of it:

"We are glad to express our satisfaction as to the results of our advertising in the paper. How we know we are trade gainers is by customers often quoting it when buying. But we have also put it to a test. Some time ago we printed a squib referring to an article on sale, which appeared in an out-of-the-way part of the paper. Before ten o'clock the same day we had scores of calls for the article advertised. We believe in THE PALLADIUM."
